MINTO AGAIN HEADS ANTIOCH FAIR ASS'N; OFFICERS NAMED

Plan New Features for 1934
Exhibit; Sponsors See Greatest Year

SIMPLIFY NAME OF ASSOCIATION

D. H. Minto was reelected president of the Antioch Country Fair Association at the annual election of officers held last night at the Antioch High school. Other officers elected were: vice president, Harry Tillotson; secretary, Emmett King; treasurer, Bert Edwards; and fifth member of the Board of Directors which includes the officers, Charles Padock.

The somewhat cumbersome title of the fair which in the past has been designated as the Antioch-Lake Villa Country Fair and Poultry Association has been simplified to Antioch Country Fair.

Several changes in the by-laws were adopted, the most important being that of separating the office of secretary-treasurer into two offices.

President Minto reported a small profit on the 1933 fair held in October. Various plans for new features for the 1934 fair were discussed, including classes for dairymen, fur-bearing exhibits, and an enlargement of the rabbit department.

The meeting last night was better attended than usual, and the men displayed greater interest and enthusiasm. Minto reported, indicating that prospects for the next fair are more encouraging than they have been for several years. A meeting of the Board will be held in the near future.

DR. SPENCER BROWN IS GRANTED FREEDOM

Was Convicted 11 Years Ago for Connection with Werner Case

Spencer Brown, former Antioch dentist, was released Tuesday from the Joliet penitentiary upon the ruling by Circuit Judge Clyde H. Thompson of Pontiac, Ill., that Brown was being illegally detained.

After his release from the Leavenworth penitentiary in 1922 where he was serving on federal conviction, he was reapprehended by the state and sent to Joliet on the 1923 conviction for receiving stolen property from the Werner Brother warehouse $1,000,000 robbery.

The state had forfeited the right to imprison him during an appeal action by Brown in 1923, when he was seized by federal authorities and convicted on the charge of altering denominations of war savings stamps through the use of acids.

He was captured originally by Edwin Ahlstrom, then county sheriff, and his dentures when they raided his warehouse for lost in 1923. The warehouse was a trick building with warning signals, numerous bars and trick locks.

Brown had a dentist's office in Chicago, but lived in Antioch, where his wife has been making her home.

C. W. A. WORKERS ARE GIVEN 24-HOUR WEEK

Work on Harden and Orchard Streets Is Nearly Completed

CWA workers in Antioch and other towns of less than 2,500 population have been granted an increase in the number of working hours per week, and will begin tomorrow on a twenty-four hour week, according to a notice received yesterday by Timekeeper S. M. Wallace from H. S. Donnell of the Waukegan office of the Civil Works Administration.

This will be an increase of nine hours over the fifteen-hour week to which workers were reduced for nearly two weeks, due to the administration's economy program when the funds were nearly exhausted.

It is anticipated that President Roosevelt's new 950 million dollar request for funds to continue civil works projects until May and the conservation corps for the next year will be approved by congress.

School Projects Advancing

The first high school project is nearing completion, according to L. O. Bright, although there are still some finishing details to be completed. Work on the second project must wait until the high school is awarded an assignment of men, although it is supposed that the men will be transferred to work on the new project.

Painting at the grade school will be completed this week according to Ralph E. Clabaugh, with the varnishing of woodwork remaining to be done.

Village Work Progresses

Graveling Harden street was completed today, according to Mayor George Bartlett, and work on Orchard street including further ditching and graveling will be finished within the next few days.

The original project included the leveling, graveling, and landscaping of Parkway avenue, west of north Main street, but the village does not propose to start active work until the government's new appropriation is approved. About three days' graveling, however, will be undertaken next week.

Fire Damages Micheli Home At Bluff Lake

Roof Fire in the Hoffman House Is Extinguished by Fire Dept.

The Alex Micheli farm house on the property of Mrs. C. E. Herman, Bluff Lake, was saved from destruction by fire by the prompt action of the Antioch firemen; when the call was received at 5:30 last night.

The fire which was caused by a defective chimney was found to be between the partitions of the wall. After the fire had been extinguished in one partition, it broke out later in another quarter of the house, and the firemen were recalled. Damage was estimated at about fifty dollars.

Save Hoffman House

A roof fire in the Lawrence Hoffman house on north Main street was put out by the Antioch firemen about 5:40 Tuesday afternoon. The fire was started in the chimney, and spread to the roof, where a small hole was burned. The damage was thought to be under fifteen dollars.

Called to Grass Fire

The fire department was called to check a grass fire which was endangering the cottages in the Copek subdivision, Cross Lake, at 11:50 Saturday morning, and again that evening to another part of the same subdivision.

Brother of Mrs. Ira Simons Passes Away

At the last meeting the Girl Scouts passed the trail signs contest twice, with Bluebird and Lion Patrols winning the points. Directions for making the small American gardens may be obtained from Mrs. G. E. Phillips. Before the meeting closed, the girls read rules about the flag. Troop Scribe, Ruth Cunningham.

Two Antioch Boys Winners in Mid-west Journalist Contest

Glean Griffin and Paul Nielsen, students in the Vocational Agriculture department of the Antioch Township High School, placed tenth and eleventh in a list of twenty winners in the Chicago Daily News Journal's seventh annual Project Story Contest.

This contest, which is open to all Vocational Agriculture students in the high schools of Wisconsin, Iowa, and Illinois, permits the boys to tell of their home project work conducted under supervision of their instructor. The Antioch boys told of their successful growing of five acres of corn, dock and Golden Glow corn respectively.

A remarkable fact of the contest is that Illinois students won fourteen of the twenty awards, Wisconsin and Iowa students winning three each.

Considering that some 160 stories were entered this year, the placing of two of Antioch's students in the first twenty places is considered a great achievement.

According to a statement issued by C. L. Kniff, Director of Vocational Agriculture at the Antioch school, students from his department have placed and won prizes continuously for the past six years. The mark set by Homer Edwards in 1929 when he placed third in the contest has not yet been reached by any of the Antioch Future Farmers.

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND BALL FOR ROOSEVELT

Broadcast of President's Birthday Message Is a Feature of Evening

The birthday ball sponsored by the Antioch Democratic Club in honor of the fifty-second birthday anniversary of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at St. Peter's hall Tuesday night was attended by over two hundred persons.

During the evening, the president's birthday message in which he spoke feelingly for the cause of crippled children, was broadcast. The entire proceeds are to go to the Georgia institution for children treated for infantile paralysis at Warm Springs, Georgia, where President Roosevelt was once a patient.

The use of the hall was donated for the occasion, and the Jolly Five orchestra of high school students also contributed their services. Refreshments were sold by members of the Democratic Club.

The accident occurred on the road leading to the Bright home at Channah Lake, west of the Munch farm. The car was badly damaged, the top and body being smashed.

Girl Scout News

At the last meeting the Girl Scouts passed the trail signs contest twice, with Bluebird and Lion Patrols winning the points. Directions for making the small American gardens may be obtained from Mrs. G. E. Phillips. Before the meeting closed, the girls read rules about the flag. Troop Scribe, Ruth Cunningham.

PROMPT FIRST AID REVIVES MONOXIDE GAS VICTIM HERE

Lillian Isrealson Is Revived by Doctor and Fire- men's Inhalator

Prompt first aid treatment very probably saved the life of Miss Lillian Isrealson, 22, of 3100 W. Irving Park boulevard, Chicago, Sunday night when she sank to unconsciousness, a victim of carbon monoxide fumes in the Antioch Chevrolet garage of Rentner & Haley.

When Miss Isrealson was seen to fall to the floor, Leonard Casag and other garage employees carried her to the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tucker who live on the second floor of the building, and artificial respiration was applied. She had partially regained consciousness before the arrival of Dr. R. D. Williams and members of the Antioch Fire Department who brought an oxygen inhalator. About one tank of oxygen was administered, and after a brief rest the stricken woman felt well enough to proceed on her way.

Spent Day Here

Miss Isrealson and her companion, Walter Wulff, 2743 Sheffield avenue, Chicago, had spent the day at the cottage belonging to Wulff's father at Little Silver Lake east of Antioch. When they started the return trip to the city they found their Chevrolet coupe frozen, and they had the car towed to the local garage to be thawed out. It was during the tow in the over-crowded garage that Miss Isrealson became ill and was finally overcome.

The sudden drop to sub-zero temperature late Sunday drove many cars to garages and all available storage places in Antioch were filled to overflowing.

Persons unused to gas-fume fumes are easy victims of monoxide poisoning, according to Dr. Williams, who stated also that one's physical condition was a factor. No one else in the garage was affected, although mechanics had worked in close contact with running cars for many hours.

Miss Isrealson and Wulff went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb near Little Silver Lake at 3:30 and after a three hour rest the girl felt able to return to her home in Chicago.

The oxygen inhalator used to restore the victim to consciousness was purchased by the Antioch Fire Department two years ago, and firemen were trained in its use, according to Chief James Stearns. A year ago a drowning victim was revived by its use, and Sunday it was demonstrated that equally good results may be obtained in cases of asphyxiation.

The inhalator is available at all times, Stearns said, and practically all members of the Fire Department understand its use.

He was employed as a toolmaker for thirty-five years.

PUBLIC PRINTS CURSED AND PRAISED BY MEN IN ALL WALKS OF LIFE

It seems that some people will never adjust themselves to having things told in a newspaper. They regard all business as something that should be kept secret and they are shocked and troubled when facts appear in print. It may be that newspapers are nuisances. That is a matter of opinion.

Some great men in times past regarded the newspaper as a useful institution and the chief safeguard of liberty, law and decency. Certainly it serves a useful purpose by exposing wrongs and thus preparing the way for their correction. Nobody need fear a respectable newspaper. It prints the news, and thus, at times exposes the sins of the wicked, but it never hurts people who behave themselves.

Many men curse the public prints, but seldom that a man condemns them for exposing his good deeds. In fact, nobody who is innocent of evil has reason to dislike or fear newspapers, and the very fact that a man does dislike or fear them is proof that he has done something of which he is ashamed and either regrets or dreads its exposure.

If a newspaper did not print the news, it would be obtaining money under false pretenses. When it ventures to express personal opinions of the editor or publisher, however, it lays itself open to attack and must be prepared to take the consequences.

If, for example, a newspaper confines itself to the words: "Samuel Blank was defeated," it merely prints a fact to which its readers are entitled, and Mr. Blank has no reason for complaint. But if it says: "Samuel Blank was defeated, as he should have been and we are darned glad of it," then it ventures beyond the realm of news and Mr. Blank is privileged to kick the editor if he feels that way about it and is capable of doing it.

In printing local news of any importance, it is well to avoid bias and not to twist the facts because of prejudice. The fact that an event is reported doesn't mean that the editor has any personal interest in it.

If a man beats his wife and there is no complaint made to the law enforcement officers, it is well to say nothing—but if he beats her too much and thus prompts her to call the marshal and take the matter into court, thus making the incident legitimate news, then the newspaper is entitled to relate the facts. The editor may not report the matter because he dislikes either party, although he may have thought the wife needed beating, but because it is news.

Of course none of us like to have his faults and weaknesses exposed, and that's the reason any printed report of misdeeds seems a criticism even when it is wholly free of opinion. But a newspaper simply must tell about things that happen.

DO WE KNOW IT ALL?

The president of a large university announced a few weeks ago that "fact-finding science was bankrupt." It seems that science has taught us so many things that we are tempted to conclude that we know everything, but there is really a great unknown yet unexplored, and that which we have learned ought to increase our reverence rather than magnify our egotism.

WILMOT WOMAN BREAKS HIP IN FALL ON BASEMENT FLOOR

High School Five Loses to Williams Bay Quintet

Mrs. T. C. Loftus broke her left hip Saturday morning when she fell on the cement cellar floor. Mrs. Loftus was going up the stairs and happened to think of something more she wished to do and stopped backwards from the second step on the flight, missing her footing and falling. Mrs. Loftus was removed to the Burlington hospital where she is under the care of Dr. Frank Bennett. Two months ago Mrs. Minnie Herrick, a sister of Mrs. Loftus, suffered almost the same accident when she slipped on ice out of doors and broke a hip at her home in Randall. Mrs. Herrick is still in a cast.

The first of the winter series of agricultural meetings was held at the high school Monday evening under the supervision of Principal M. M. Schurr and County Agent Ryall, of Kenosha. Courses in live stock management, Federal farm loans, and the Agricultural adjustment act are to be offered.

The basket ball team lost to Williams Bay at Williams Bay Friday evening 19-14. Union Grove will play on the Wilmot floor this Friday evening, and the Antioch high school is scheduled to play at Wilmot February 6th.

R. L. Hegeman and William Lieske attended the Chicago automobile show on Sunday.

St. Anne's altar society held the annual business meeting and election of officers at the Holy Name Church Sunday. Mrs. W. Sarrachor of Silver Lake was elected president for the ensuing year, Mrs. J. Fox, Salem, vice president; Miss Rose Yanny,

After 6000 years of recording history, we know no more about the secrets of life than they knew at the beginning. We live, we plan, we have our hopes and fears, and yet, in a moment, a change may come over any of us and this body will become a mass of lifeless clay. What is that, having, we live; having not, we are as clods?

There was a watermelon on exhibition in Chicago last summer which weighed 160 pounds. It takes 5,000 dried watermelon seeds to weigh one pound. One seed, put into the ground, when warmed by the sun and moistened by the rain, takes off its coat and goes to work. It gathers from somewhere 8,000,000 times its own weight and forcing this through a tiny stem, constructs a giant watermelon. It ornaments the outside with a covering of green; inside the green it puts a layer of white; and within the white, a core of red. From whence the power, the coloring matter, the flavoring extract—how does it build a watermelon?

Something more wonderful yet—the mysterious change that takes place in human beings. When a man begins to hate the things he loved, and love the things he hated. The great transformation of the man who would have sacrificed a world for his own advancement, but now would give his life for a principle, and esteem it a glorious privilege. Let us hope that we all may be included.

PRESIDENT HAS HIS WAY

The Republicans call it gag rule—the Democrats, for the most part, simply smile and say nothing. Whatever it is, the Roosevelt Parliamentary technique works.

A major test of Presidential power came early in the House when Democratic leaders adopted a rule of procedure whereby no amendment could be offered from the floor which would affect the economy sections of the Independent Offices Bill, then under consideration, or any other appropriations measure that would appear during the session. The rule was unprecedented—and during the session. There were heavy Democratic defections, which resulted in Democratic leaders working over the mavericks in their party. Result of that was that a move to recommit the rule was slaughtered, 240 to 141.

Most dramatic victory came on January 20, when the Roosevelt dollar devaluation bill swept through the House by the colossal margin of 360 to 40. It is doubtful if any piece of legislation of comparable importance ever carried so fast. Debate was entirely shut off. All over carried so fast. Debate was entirely shut off. All over carried so fast. Debate was entirely shut off.

The measure has four specific phases. First, the treasury is given title to all of the nation's monetary gold stock, including that held by federal reserve banks.

Second, it fixes 60 per cent of the dollar's gold content as the maximum of gold value after revaluation. Third, it gives the Administration a fund of $2,000,000,000, obtained automatically from the added value of the treasury's gold after devaluation has taken place, with which to stabilize the foreign value of the dollar.

Fourth, it gives the treasury greater power in issuing and floating government securities, thus simplifying the great refinancing task that confronts the federal government now. The treasury is allowed to purchase any type of government security with any other type, may sell issues privately without offering them to the general public.

Main opposition to the bill is based on the fear of putting too vast a power in one man's hands—it obviously makes Mr. Roosevelt a monetary dictator with hardly a restriction. Supporters of the New Deal claim that it is what the country wants; that it is essential to recovery that the President be given free reign.

Earl Swenson attended the sessions of the Illinois Agriculture association at Danville, Ill., three days last week.

Ralph Church

Will Run For CONGRESS

In Tenth District

Ralph Church of Evanston, marked by his unchallenged record of public service during eight consecutive terms in the Illinois Legislature as one of the foremost Republicans in the State, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District.

Portrait of Ralph Church, candidate for Congress.

"I enter the race," said Mr. Church, "first, because I naturally wish to win again the Republican nomination for Congress, honestly won by me in April, 1932, according to official canvass and actual recount of ballots, and only wrested from me in late September by an indefensible judicial decision disenfranchising 321 honest, intelligent voters in Evanston University precinct. Second and more important, I feel duty bound to continue the fight for clean government and honest elections then begun by the more than 45,000 citizens, who, outraged by political machinations and judicial chicanery, supported me in the November election. The intelligent public stands ready to outlaw the corrupt machine with its spoilsmen, primary cause of the extravagance and ruin of government. This same public must even more strongly repudiate those candidates whose only qualification lies in their training to represent special interests before public welfare and their willingness to fatten the corrupt machine with wealth and influence in return for endorsement and disreputable election practices.

"I base my candidacy on my sixteen-year record in the Illinois Legislature for independent, constructive public service. I shall use all my experience and my personal strong interest in the cause of good government, in a determined effort to give to the Tenth District the competent and responsible representation that it so sorely needs."

It will be recalled that the disenfranchised voters of the Evanston University precinct, aided by a committee headed by Dean John H. Wigmore, secured within ten days the 13,000 necessary signatures, and placed Mr. Church's name on the November ballot with the slogan, "Voters' Nomination Shall Prevail." The fact that Mr. Church at that time, without organization support and in a position on the ballot that was unfavorable beyond description, polled over 45,000 votes indicates that he will prove a strong contender for the nomination in the current primary.

Mr. Church, a Chicago lawyer for 24 years, was first elected to the State Legislature in 1916 without factional support. He increased his majorities at all succeeding elections until in 1930 he received the highest vote cast in the State for the office of State Representative. He served as Chairman of the Committee on Judicial Department and Practice and of the Election Committee, and was an active member of the Judiciary, Revenue, and other important committees. He gained state-wide distinction for his uncompromising battle throughout the years against graft and inefficiency in government, and especially against high taxes. His friends predict that his proven efficiency, courage, and dependability stamp him as the man most able to give the Tenth District the capable representation which it needs.

(Signed) RALPH C. CHURCH.

How to Eat for Health

Illustrating the best way to drink a toast to success, Bing Crosby, radio crooner, and Paramount featured player in "College Humor" evidently knows that a nutritious diet is an important feature of a singer's "training rules."

FIGURING out just how many days it should take you to gain weight may help to keep you encouraged about your progress. A 3,200-calorie diet such as the one sketched below should accomplish a gain in weight of about 3 1/2 pounds per day, which is safe. Multiply the number of pounds you wish to gain by four and the result will be the number of days it should take you to accomplish the increase.

EGGS' WHITES ARE NOW CONTROLLED

77,000 Eggs Are Broken to Make Possible a Better Feed.

The feed that goes into the hen largely determines the quality of the egg produced. Every poultry raiser knows this and if you are on good enough terms with him he will demonstrate to you why certain feeds produce deep colored yolks and others light colored yolks. At the same time he will admit that it is hard to control the exact shade of the yolks this year around.

Feed manufacturers have long ago discovered that the success of a poultryman depends upon pleasing his market, so they have tried to provide a feed mixture which will produce the kind of eggs that will bring poultrymen top prices. The problem of shading the yolk is only one part of the secret.

More difficult is the selection of feeds that will produce the ideal white for each egg. Thin watery whites are not ideal. The white must be thick and firm and stay close to the yolk in the punching pan or on the straight "up" orders.

To solve this problem Purina Experimental Farm of Gray Summit, Mo., several years ago began a record egg breaking and testing experiment. Many combinations of feed were fed to specially selected flocks. Eggs from these hens were numbered for easy identification and then the eggs were broken and compared to the specifications that had been set up by egg market experts.

In all of these feeding experiments the first objective of the feed was not overlooked. Feed is meant to produce first of all, eggs in quantity. Only after this requirement is satisfied can the quality part follow.

More than 77,000 eggs were individually handled and broken in this exhaustive search for the ideal combination. One dozen or one hundred dozen eggs broken from hens fed on the egg quality formula finally adopted look as milk as peas in a pod. The full meaning of such a feed can only be fully appreciated by poultrymen who have had the opportunity to work up a special market for their product and who know the advantages of an increased income that American preference for quality makes possible.

Changing birds over to this new feed is simple. Poultry on the range are changed over at eighteen weeks of age. Scratch grains are decreased gradually in proportion as the new feed replaces the other feed. Laying hens can be changed to the new feed at any time of the year according to the poultry experts at the Purina Experimental Farm. As is the usual practice in changing a flock's ration, two weeks should be allowed for making the change and no change should be made during extremely cold weather or when birds are in peak production.

Tornado Is Most Frequent Disaster; Causes Heavy Loss of Lives

What type of disaster occurs most frequently in the United States? This question is answered from the relief annals of the American Red Cross which show over a period of years that the tornado, or cyclone as it is called in some sections, is the most frequent and claims a heavy toll of life. It swoops almost without warning, and in the terrific whirlpool of its fierce winds it destroys all in its path.

TEETH FOR A LIFETIME ARE BUILT IN YOUTH

More dental defects occur among children than all other physical defects. That fact alone explains why progressive communities insist on dental examinations for school children. Improper care of the teeth during childhood is also considered responsible for the appalling fact that the period of greatest dental efficiency in the average person is only ten years in length. This means that our chewing mechanism which requires twenty years to build remains intact for only half that time.

Dr. Clarence O. Simpson says, "The gulf for this condition can be charged primarily to parents in deficient care and training of children, because the destruction of the teeth starts before the age of discretion," which means in every day language that parents do not insist that their children eat enough of the tooth-building foods, such as milk, fruits, vegetables and chewy foods. It also means that parents do not train their children to brush their teeth thoroughly and frequently.

Value of Parents' Example.

It is not enough for parents to tell their children to brush their teeth and eat the right foods. They must also see that their children act on the directions given them. One very practical way for the parents to do this is to set them a good example by giving their own teeth good care, including frequent dental examinations. The parents must work with the schools and other health agencies in seeing that the children establish and practice the proper health habits.

Of course the school dental examination in itself does nothing to improve the condition of the child's teeth. The value of the examination is in calling the condition to the attention of the parents so that they will have the child's teeth cared for. Also—the re-examination is a means of showing whether the dental conditions are improving or getting worse. Possibly the most important function of these school-sponsored examinations is the object lesson which they present to the parents. They emphasize the value of having children's teeth examined regularly.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

Speed of Falling Bodies

Experiments have proved that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is thirty-two feet. If a ball be allowed to fall from a tower, it is moving at the rate of thirty-two feet per second at the end of the first second after it has dropped from the hand; at the end of the next second with a velocity of sixty-four feet, and at the end of the third second at the rate of ninety-six feet per second.

Counting a Million

The time it would take to count a million coins would depend upon the person. In the counting room at the Treasury department the silver is usually weighed rather than counted. An estimate has been made, however, that counting at the rate of 1 a second and 8 hours a day, it would take a person about 85 days to count one million coins.

BENSENVILLE CAGERS

The Antioch high school basketball strips will meet Bensenville tomorrow night for the first home game since December. In a previous game with Bensenville this season the southern school claimed the victory by a narrow margin, 33-29.

Coach Thomas Cox said this week that he was initiating a new plan for the lineups, which, he was confident, would produce a different brand of playing. During practice and scrimmage this week, the seniors and freshmen under the coaching of H. H. Reichers have been playing the juniors and sophomores under Cox's coaching, with the result that more interest and determination has been displayed by the players.

An attractive offer has been made to basketball fans in regard to admission prices for the remainder of the season. A fifty-cent ticket may be purchased which will enable adults to attend the last three home games with Bensenville, Palatine and Libertyville. Children may see all three games for a quarter ticket.

G. S. To Enter
State Sectional
Basketball Tourney

The Antioch grade school basketball teams will enter the State sectional basketball tournament to be held February 5, 6, 7, and 8, at the Grayslake school auditorium, for the first tournament experience in the history of the school.

The sectional tournament for this section of the state is usually held further south, near Algonquin, thus making it impractical for the local school to enter.

Each school enters two teams, a lightweight and a heavyweight team. Contrary to the usual meaning of lightweight team as including second string players, no boys over one hundred pounds will be eligible for this team.

Antioch drew Dundee as the first contestant for both teams.

Schedules follow:

Lightweight Teams

Monday, 8 p. m., Dundee vs. Antioch.

Tuesday, 6 p. m., Algonquin vs. Lake Villa.

Tuesday, 8 p. m., Grayslake vs. Woodstock.

Wednesday, 8 p. m., winners of Monday's and first Tuesday's game.

Thursday, 7:30 p. m., winners of Wednesday's game and Tuesday's second game.

Heavyweight Teams

Monday, 6 p. m., Antioch vs. Dundee 2nds.

Monday, 7 p. m., Lake Villa vs. Dundee.

Tuesday, 7 p. m., Grayslake vs. Woodstock.

Wednesday, 7 p. m., Monday's winners.

Thursday, 8:30 p. m., Tuesday's winner vs. Wednesday's winner.

The winner in each division will represent this section in the State Championship Meet to be held at Wenona, Ill., February 15, 16, and 17.

OUTCOME OF G. S.
GAME WITH FOX L.
OPEN TO QUESTION

Because of the question as to whether the last basket made by the Antioch grade school team in their game at the high school with Fox Lake last night was made before or after the end of the game, the game will be replayed before the close of the season.

With but a few seconds to go, and the score 10-9 in favor of Fox Lake, the visiting boys called time out. When play was resumed, a long shot was made by Miller, Antioch forward, but it could not be satisfactorily determined whether it was made before the official close of the game.

Miller was the scoring star of the team with three baskets, followed by Crandall and Koukol with one, and G. Hawkins with a free throw. Osmond and C. Hawkins also played on the first team.

The second team lost 6-4, with Wendell Nelson making both of Antioch's baskets. Those playing were Brogan, Williams, Nelson, Smith, Verkest, Houston, Burke, Strang, Dalgard, and Bartlett.

The visiting team from the General Pershing school of Berwyn, Ill., defeated the local boys in a practice game, 24-10.

The second edition of the Antioch Grade School News will be published tomorrow.

Pani's Patter

By LEA LANE

Here's a new idea for a Christmas gift for dad. He says (lots of) men are tired, let-down feeling at the office in mid-afternoon. That's what we girls call "four-o'clock-itis," and we know that candy, because it provides lots of energy, is a great "pick-me-up" for it. You might call my present a "Candy Humidor." It's a good-looking leather box I found on last shopping tour and I'm filling it with hard candies. Dad can keep it on his desk to help himself. Just like a cigarette box, and it's empty it can be filled again. But that will be soon.

Prepare "Recovery" Delicacies Now

By Jane Rogers

SINCE a few years after the Pilgrims first landed on New England's rock-bound coast; a family board groaning with special delicacies—sweets and others—has been the symbol of rejoicing and good cheer in America. Today recovery and future prosperity are on everyone's tongue, are in the very atmosphere we breathe. Prepare now to be able to serve throughout the winter months those preserved fruit delicacies that can add so much to the family's enjoyment of the menu and the resulting up-building of morale. Fresh fruits are abundant and inexpensive. Sugar, too, is low in cost. Modern methods of preserving have cut down the time and work involved. Finally, the results are an important contribution to good health and stamina, for the sugar is a concentrated source of energy, and the fruits themselves provide essential vitamins and minerals. Now, therefore, while the markets are still overflowing with the products of orchard and garden, is the time to stock your shelves with the wherewithal to add zest to winter meals.

they have thick, fuzzy skins it is better.

Ripe Grape Jam

4 1/2 cups (3 1/2 lbs.) prepared fruit
7 cups (8 lbs.) sugar
7 bottles pectin
To prepare fruit, strip skins from about 3 pounds fully-ripe grapes. Simmer pulp, covered, 5 minutes. Remove seeds by sieving. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Add 1/2 cup water and if desired, grated rind of 1 orange. Stir until mixture boils. Simmer, covered, 30 minutes. (Wild grapes, Malagas and other light-skinned grapes may be stemmed, crushed whole, simmered with 1/2 cup water 30 minutes, sieved, and then measured. With light-skinned grapes add juice of 1 lemon to water. Use 4 cups prepared fruit.)

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Pour quickly into glasses. Cover with 1/4-inch hot paraffin. When cool put on the covers.

Peach Butter

To 4 pounds of pared sliced peaches add 2 cups of water and cook carefully until peaches are soft. Force through a colander and measure. Allow two-thirds of a cup of sugar for every cup of sliced peaches. If you wish add a drop of oil of cloves and oil of cinnamon—but no more than a drop. Cook, watching that it does not burn, until of the desired consistency, then put in hot, sterilized jars and seal. It is not absolutely necessary to pare the peaches when making peach butter—but if

Diet Helps to Combat Winter Complexion Ills

Miriam Jordan, Fox featured player, shown with part of her daily quota of fresh milk. "It's good for your complexion," she says.

AS THE seasons change, complexion problems seem to change with them. In the summer it's sunburn and freckles we have to combat and in the colder seasons it's apt to be a red nose, chapped skin or pimples. Usually a red nose is an indication of poor circulation and is most apt to be noticed in those who get little outdoor exercise. As to the chapped skin problem, most beauty specialists agree that a good foundation or protective cream is advisable in any season of the year to guard the skin from the effect of sun, wind and dirt.

No doubt the reason that pimples appear more often in winter than in summer is the rich, heavy food we usually eat during the winter months. All the facials in the world won't eradicate pimples that are caused from within—by improper diet. Fresh milk, fruits and vegetables—these are the foods that help you to a clear, smooth complexion, unmarred by blotchiness.

Have a Fresh Milk Complexion. In fact, the person who coined that phrase, a "peaches and cream complexion," was not only describing a lovely skin; he was also naming two of the foods that help to create it. For peaches together with cream's "better half"—fresh milk—are two excellent complexion foods. The peaches supply iron for the color that glows in healthy cheeks; and the milk, if it is given a chance, will do for the grown woman's complexion what it does for young babies: whose only food it is.

Three reasons why fresh milk is so valuable as an inside complexion treatment are: its abundance of Vitamin A helping to resist infections; its Vitamin G which aids in "preserving the characteristics of youth"; and its rich supply of calcium, one of the minerals which keeps the glands in the body working as they should.

Perhaps more important than any single one of these factors is the combined effect of all the food elements in milk which have such a beneficial effect on the general health, because the skin is usually the first part of us to reflect a poor physical condition.

OUR CLASSIFIED COLUMNS BRING RESULTS

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Mental Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Ventilation and Health

Resistance to illness, particularly the diseases that affect the nose, throat and lungs, depend to a surprising degree upon proper heating and ventilation.

Scientific investigation shows that three factors must be attended to make the average home or schoolhouse a healthful place. These are temperature, moisture and the motion of the air.

Temperature—The good health standard is 65 to 68 degrees Fahrenheit. Cool air is stimulating and invigorating. Overheated air induces physical and mental depression and sluggishness.

Moisture—Sufficient moisture is present when fresh outdoor air is admitted to the room. Insufficient moisture in the air causes excessive drying of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat, especially if the air is overheated. This frequently renders the individual more susceptible to colds and other infectious diseases.

Motion—Circulation is necessary to prevent stagnation of hot moist air around the body. Unless circulation is otherwise provided for, keep one or more windows open to some extent at all times, but avoid direct drafts. Slow-moving currents are sufficient.

In his next article Dr. Ireland will tell what children should eat.

A Treat From Victorian Days

TAKE a tip from the vogue for the customs of our Victorian forebears. When the children clamor for "something to eat" in mid-afternoon give them that good old-fashioned delicacy a piece of bread and butter liberally sprinkled with brown sugar. It's economical, chock full of energy, and the children will greet it with cheers just as their grandparents used to in the days when Victoria was queen.

Eddie Cantor Comes to the Genesee

Eddie Cantor in "Roman Scandals" is a classic fable by George S. Kaufman and Robert Sherwood opens an engagement at the Genesee Theatre Sunday, with Ruth Etting, Orlin Stuart and David Manners, Edward Arnold and Vera Teasdale involved in his adventures among the ancients.

A whimsical lad, always day-dreaming of life in the days of the Caesars, Eddie suddenly finds himself a spokesman for the poor and oppressed before the cruel and mighty Emperor Valerious. The affairs of state and the course of true love both get a helping hand from Eddie, but it isn't until he attempts an escape from Rome to the sea, with the Emperor's charioteers thundering thru the dust in pursuit, that the classic takes on the form of real flesh and blood to him.

As a screen play, "Roman Scandals" demands more of Cantor than anything he has yet attempted in talking pictures. His role is a human believable one; the story alternates between the simplest human comedy and the wildest nightmare of fantasy.

Diet and Brushing Are Tooth Beautifiers

"The regular inclusion of milk in the daily diet is one of the most beneficial habits," says Irene Bentley, Fox featured player.

MOST of us have been raised on the necessity for brushing our teeth at least twice a day, but did you know that, for healthy, attractive teeth you should also add to that routine a glass of milk three times a day or oftener? In no other food but milk can you secure adequate amounts of the best form of calcium, that mineral most essential for tooth building. Milk, often called the tooth food, also supplies generous quantities of the phosphorus that works with calcium in tooth and bone building.

Other foods that play an important part in tooth beauty are fruits, especially the citric fruits such as oranges, lemons and grapefruit; butter, vegetables, eggs and, in winter, a good source of Vitamin D such as cod liver oil in some form.

A word about how you brush your teeth—several minutes should be spent in this process each time it is performed, taking care that the brush reaches all the exposed surfaces of the teeth and also massages the gums. The use of dental floss occasionally is advisable.

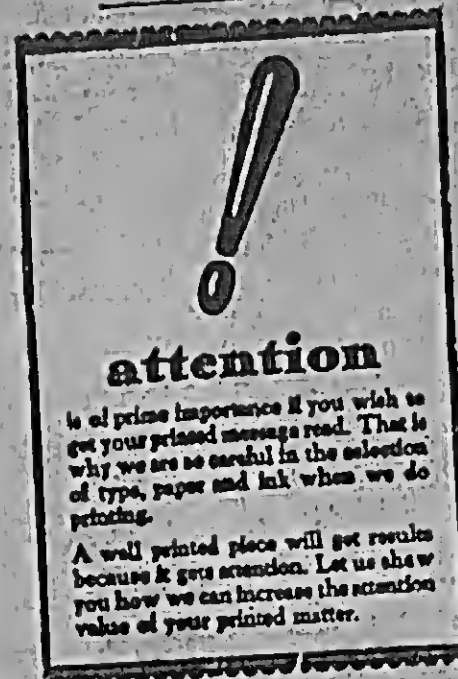

This regular diet-brushing regime, supplemented by semi-annual dental examinations should keep your teeth healthy and beautiful—it started early enough of course. And even if you have "let your teeth go" for a long period before starting to take good care of them, diet and brushing will at least help to keep them from decaying further.

You Can't Afford to Postpone Tooth Care.

This very fact that teeth cannot be regained, is the reason why you can not afford to neglect their care at any period of life. You can sometimes stimulate hair growth, even after it has started to fall out; your complexion can be beautified by facials and diet, even if it has become wrinkled and flabby; a neglected figure can be "re-modeled" by diet, exercise, and massage, but once you have lost a tooth it's gone forever.

Dread of a toothache and desire for firm white teeth are not the only emotions which should lead you to treat your teeth well. There are at least three other excellent reasons. One of them is that an unhealthy tooth may cause infections in other parts of the body, affecting your general health. Another is that an unhealthy condition of the mouth may cause that much-advertised horror—halitosis; and a third is that early tooth care will save you money, for certainly it is cheaper to clean your teeth with an inexpensive brush and to feed them the proper foods than it is to pay for expensive dental treatment later on. So begin today in the care of your teeth by feeding them, brushing them, and checking with your dentist twice a year.
